is a serious one. However, I find he incurred this 1-1/4 years ago, four months after coming to work in the Agency while serving as a volunteer for night duty in the OCI Watch Office. We had asked for volunteers to assist OCI during a particularly trying period. He states the idea of preparing this list came to him in the middle of the night while covering the Office with nothing else to do. The security implications never dawned on him he says.
